

Game changing feed protocols in marine hatcheries

– case study: ballan wrasse

Ballan wrasse hatcheries in Norway have replaced rotifers and artemia completely with Cryoplankton:

- much earlier weaning to dry feed
- 5x increased survival in larval tanks

- Conventional protocol
- Step 1: replace artemia with CryoMax Large
- Step 2: replace rotifers with CryoMax Small

